

ORCAM

Our Vision. Empowering People.

Omer Elad
Central Europe Regional Director

“..you don’t need to look far these days to find much that is familiar in the world redefined as information.

Books are portrayed as information containers, libraries as information warehouses, universities as information providers, and learning as information absorption. Organizations are depicted as information coordinators, meetings as information consolidators, talk as information exchange, markets as information-driven stimulus and response”

(John Seely Brown and Paul Duguid’s The Social Life of Information (ch. 1))

Professor Amnon Shashua and CEO Ziv Aviram - Founders OrCam.

What Do People Need?

A Day In the Life...

ORCAM PRESENTS

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF AMY

ORCAM MyEye 2

oversight halts Chinese I.P.O.s

When China's state-owned enterprises began to list on the New York Stock Exchange, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) began to scrutinize the companies' financial statements. The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s.

The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s. The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s.

The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s. The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s.

The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s. The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s.

The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s. The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s.

The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s. The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s.

The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s. The SEC's oversight has led to the suspension of several Chinese I.P.O.s.

The man in the photo is the CEO of the company that was suspended from the New York Stock Exchange.

The man in the photo is the CEO of the company that was suspended from the New York Stock Exchange.

The man in the photo is the CEO of the company that was suspended from the New York Stock Exchange.

The man in the photo is the CEO of the company that was suspended from the New York Stock Exchange.

AMEC buying rival for $3.2 billion

LONDON

Foster Wheeler purchase would allow it to expand engineering services

BY IAN BAKER

AMEC, the British engineering and project management company, said on Monday that it had agreed to acquire Foster Wheeler, a U.S. engineering and construction firm, for $3.2 billion.

The deal, which would create a new global engineering and construction giant, is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets.

The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets. The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets.

The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets. The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets.

The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets. The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets.

The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets. The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets.

The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets. The deal would allow AMEC to expand its services into the U.S. and other markets.

Banking shares surge after change in capital rules

LONDON

Banking shares surged on Monday after the U.K. government announced a change in capital rules.

BY IAN BAKER

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

Banking shares surge after change in capital rules

LONDON

Banking shares surged on Monday after the U.K. government announced a change in capital rules.

BY IAN BAKER

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

The U.K. government announced a change in capital rules for banks, which will require them to hold more capital than before.

How many lives can we improve?

Dyslexia

Up to 15% of the population. 3% severe cases.

International Dyslexia Association

OrCam MyReader

10-15%

250
million

50-70
million

Blind and Low vision

People in the world

World Health Organization

OrCam MyEye

Various disorders

That prevent normal ability to read, recognize faces or objects.

OrCam MyReader

English Speaking Countries

Europe and Middle East

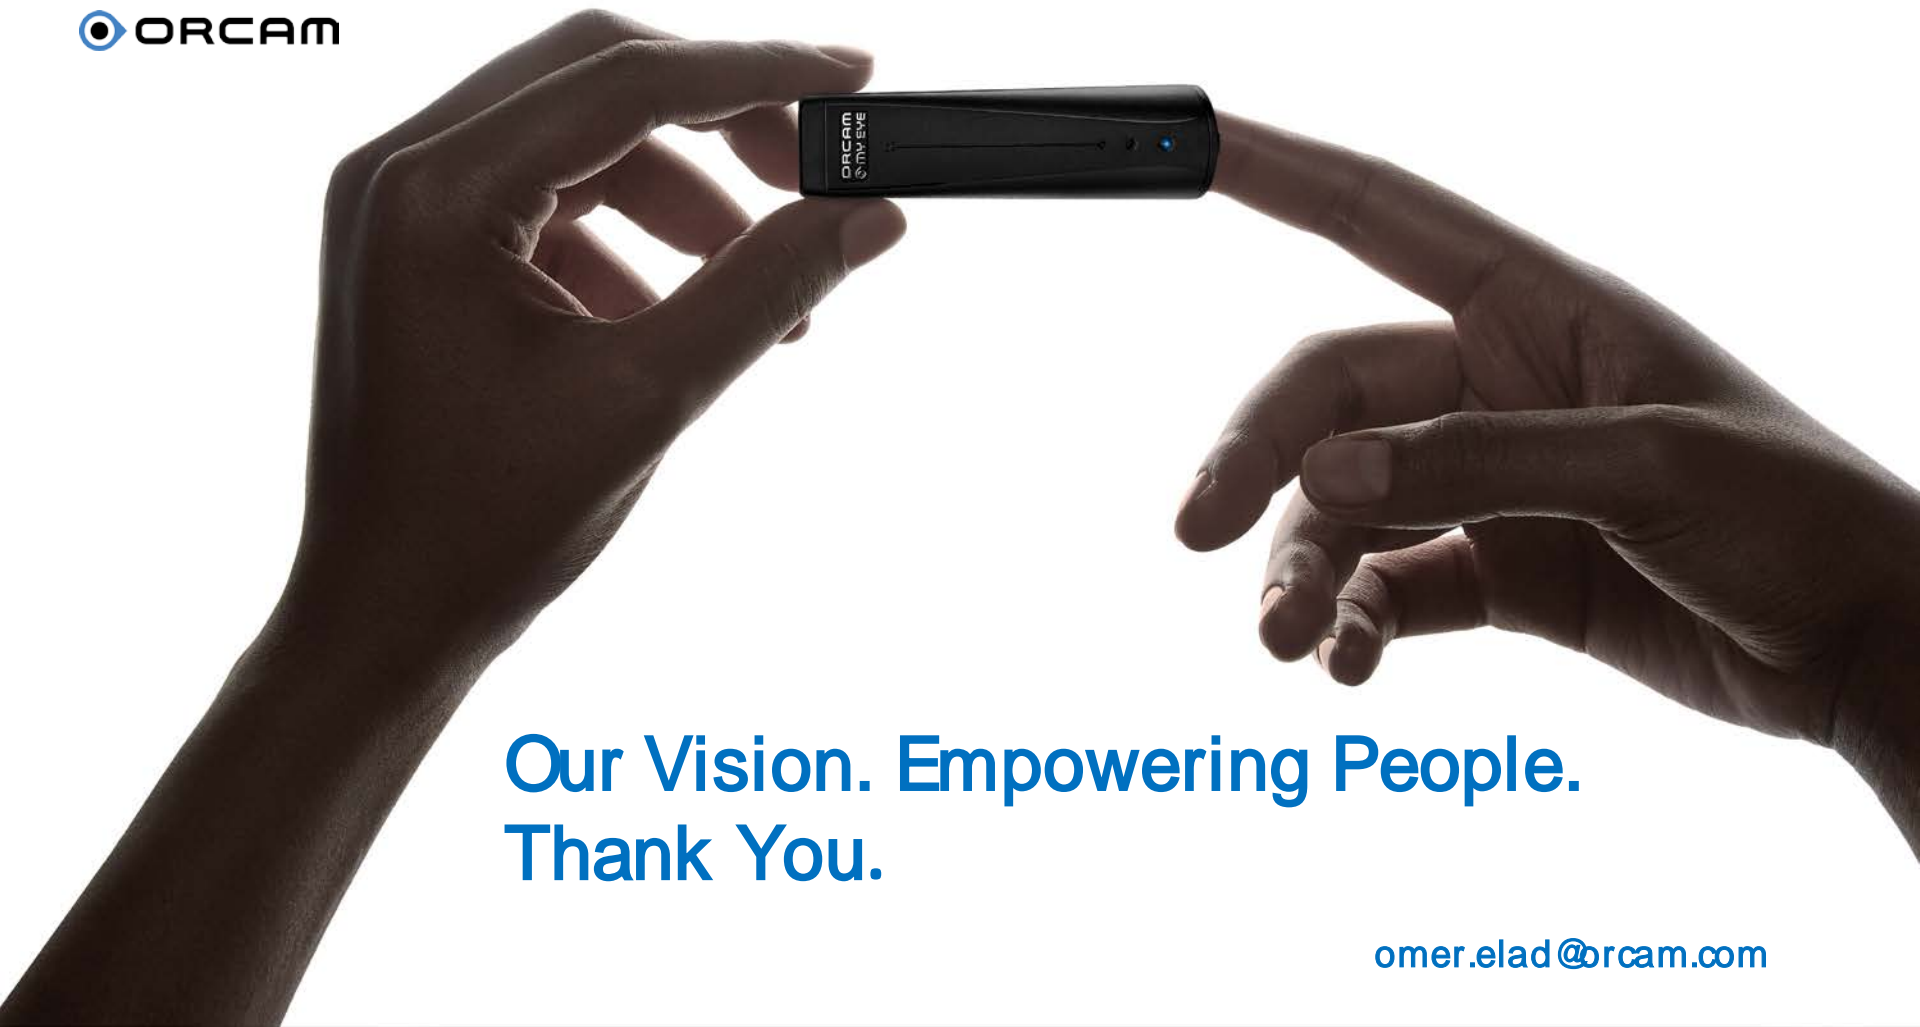

Latin America

Asia

Our Vision. Empowering People.
Thank You.